K-1

Welcome!! If you would like to do some extra literacy activities this week the following sites are fun and helpful:

Listen to a musical & educational podcast for kids.

Each episode of Ear Snacks by Andrew and Polly explores a new and exciting topic or question — from everything you ever wanted to know about hats, to intriguing and informational conversations about seahorses.

ME: A KID'S DIARY

Tell your story. Me: A Kid's Diary gives kids hundreds of fun, inspiring prompts to help them learn more about themselves and the people around them. In drawings, words, animations, recordings, and photos, kids can document their worlds: their families, friends, pets, feelings, likes, dislikes, wishes, and dreams. As they play and create, kids build self-awareness, self-confidence, empathy, and kindness.

How You Can Support Your Child's Writing Development at Home

PBS LearningMedia hosts some terrific educational material for children, and its Between the Lions video resources are among the best. There are read-along folktales and fables with a twist, clever song videos of letter sounds, and many more amusing stories and catchy songs to capture kids' attention. The videos are short, with most ranging from 20 seconds to 6 minutes in length, so it's easy for children to watch a variety of them—or to re-watch a favorite several times.

Have a wonderful week!!!

Literacy Games:

- ABCYA (<https://www.abcya.com/grades/1/letters>)
  - o Below are a few of my favorite literacy games on the website:
    - Slimezilla vs The Compound Words: A compound word is when two words come together and make a new word (e.g., sun and shine =sunshine)
    - Pancake Panic- Homophones: A homophone is a word that sounds the same as another word or words, but has a different meaning and spelling (e.g., eight and ate, or blue and blew).
    - Sight Word Bingo: Pick a grade level sight word list (pre-primer, primer, first, second). Listen to the sight word and find it on the bingo board.
