

WORKSHEET LESSON #8

Vision and Perception

The most important of the 5 senses for safe driving is _____.

_____ is the imaginary line that extends from your eyes to your point of focus.

Define and describe Central Vision.

Define and describe Fringe Vision.

Define and describe Peripheral Vision.

What are the advantages to keeping your eyes active while you search?

The distance you look ahead is your _____.

Searching 20-30 seconds ahead gives you time to:

Define Visual Control Zone.

_____ can help you detect movement and prepare you to respond to the actions of other roadway users when you drive in residential areas or near parked cars.

When conditions change,

What are the two steps to develop a selective search pattern?

1. _____
2. _____

What 4 major categories should you try to classify your search information into?

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____

What information might the condition of someone else's car give you?

Recognizing a dangerous driving situation in advance,

Which of these examples of poor visual habits do you recognize in yourself?

- ❖ _____
- ❖ _____
- ❖ _____
- ❖ _____
- ❖ _____
- ❖ _____