

POBJFK High School hosts Taiwanese students in Cultural Exchange Program

Plainview-Old Bethpage JFK High School had the privilege of welcoming four distinguished students from Kaohsiung Senior High School, Taiwan, on April 8-9, as part of a cultural exchange program. Organized by the dedicated Chinese Honor Society adviser, Ellen Huang, this initiative exemplified the power of international friendship and learning.

During their two-day visit, the Taiwanese students immersed themselves in the American educational system, attending classes and engaging in various activities guided by enthusiastic members of the Chinese Honor Society. From participating in a music lesson with orchestra teacher Dustin Bartley, to experiencing daily life in an American school, the students gained invaluable insights into the warmth and inclusivity of Plainview-Old Bethpage.

Beyond the classroom, the cultural exchange continued with vibrant activities. Teresa Clausi, Italian Honor Society adviser, introduced the art of Tarantella dance, while the Spanish Honor Society led a lively salsa dancing lesson. The Taiwanese guests broadened their cultural horizons experiencing Mexican cuisine for the first time, attending a tennis match, and forging meaningful friendships with American peers.

POBJFK High School takes pride in facilitating such impactful exchanges, fostering mutual understanding, and creating lasting memories for students and guests alike. These experiences are instrumental in bridging cultures and nurturing global citizenship.

Students from Kaohsiung Senior High School in Taiwan took part in a cultural exchange program at Plainview-Old Bethpage JFK High School.

