

Superintendent's Highlight November 2, 2018

Last week, POBMS celebrated Unity Day as a reminder that they were united against bullying and united for kindness, acceptance and inclusion. In support of this day, students and staff were encouraged to wear ORANGE. All week, students participated in fun MAP activities and creating their chain of messages, leading up to Unity Day Project Connect. The Project Connect chain, which is made up of orange links with student messages of unity and kindness, is currently on display in the POBMS main lobby.

Unity Day was part of The POBMS Health Education Department's Red Ribbon Week. During this week all students are encouraged to sign the Drug-Free Pledge on a large RED bulletin board located near the health classrooms. Additionally, during this week, POBMS students participated in activities that encouraged them to make new friends, work together to make good decisions, and to be comfortable with the decisions that they do make. This week was fun and meaningful for both students and staff, because it had everyone working together to make positive steps on life's journey.
